ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Millennium acknowledges the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the first inhabitants and Traditional Owners and Custodians of Country throughout Australia.
We pay respects to Elders past, present and emerging.

United: Our Reconciliation Journey. Lani Balzan, 2022

Millennium has developed its first Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP). We elected to undertake the Innovate RAP, reflecting our readiness to implement reconciliation initiatives over a 2-year timeframe.

Millennium asked Aboriginal artist, Lani Balzan to help us express our Reconciliation journey and ambitions with a painting. Lani is a proud Aboriginal woman from the Wiradjuri people of the three-river tribe. Pictured above is the artwork.

Our vision for reconciliation is to achieve greater unity with and equity and inclusion for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

1. HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

In 2021/22 Millennium continued to build trust and respect from our customers through exceptional service, delivered by a committed and dedicated team. This approach has translated into a solid business performance in an environment which remains challenging following the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Healthy business

Millennium's ongoing focus on continuous improvement and outstanding service delivery is a credit to the entire Millennium team. The business has proven resilient throughout the continued impact of COVID-19 and our broad ranging client and industry base has enabled us to withstand and capitalise on market changes in demand for services during this challenging period. It is especially pleasing that we have secured several large blue chip client contract renewals in the second half of the financial year, further strengthening our position in the market. In line with our growth strategy, we welcomed several new clients whilst renewing and expanding contracts both within the retail sector (which has traditionally accounted for most of our total revenue) as well as the commercial, transport, government and education sectors.

Change in Group Leadership

In February 2022, Millennium's Chief Executive Officer resigned. For Royce Galea, company Founder and Executive Director, the transition to the role of Chief Executive Officer has been seamless. Royce brings extensive industry experience and relationships, and a relentless focus on customers and people engagement to the role.

Codee Cleaning Partnership

In December 2021 Millennium entered a working partnership agreement with Codee Cleaning Services, based in Western Australia (WA). Codee is an Indigenous owned and operated cleaning business established in 2011, providing a diverse range of cleaning services across multiple sectors in WA. These arrangements provide opportunities for Codee to work in alliance with Millennium to further develop and grow its cleaning business, whilst also providing meaningful employment, education, and economic opportunities for Australia's First People.

Working with Codee, Millennium gains a unique opportunity to improve understanding and connection and build relationships with Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Ethical Treatment of Workers

We are very conscious of community and customer expectations for responsible business practices, and we are committed to maintaining high standards of compliance, safety, and customer service. Our Board led governance program ensures Millennium meets its legal, social, and ethical obligations.

Our commitment to ensuring ethical treatment of employees begins with correct payment of wages and application of Award and National Employment Standard terms and conditions but extends well beyond this to prioritising health and safety and aspects such as work life balance and job security.

As a people business, our team members are the lifeblood of the Company, and their safety and wellbeing are our priority.

Impact of COVID-19

Throughout the pandemic and whilst travel and trade restrictions were being eased, Millennium maintained strong relationships with our Supply Chain stakeholders. This ensured good continuity of service and reduced any potential risks of engaging new suppliers to source materials or services from a Tier 1 or 2 supplier who may have poor business practices, including Modern Slavery.

The easing of restrictions across the nation in 2022 saw most of our customers returning to pre-pandemic operational capacity. However, limited immigration and labour shortages across both the cleaning and security industries presented challenges for the labour demands of our customers and has placed strains on the existing workforce in some areas.

To assist with the recovery, Millennium had proactively engaged in recruitment drives whilst adhering to fair and transparent practices along with the inclusion of referrals incentives. Existing workforces were engaged to additional hours in line with applicable Modern Awards, National Employment Standards and Safe Work Australia's Fatigue Management guidelines.

The easing of mandatory isolation requirement following a positive test for COVID-19, along with the rollback of government financial support to affected individuals, resulted in a spike in personal leave uptake during Q2 of 2022 which stabilized over time. Similarly, our supply chain partners have been challenged with labour shortages throughout this reporting period.

The safety of our staff, clients and customers has been, and will always continue to be, paramount in everything we do. COVID-safe processes and protocols were implemented and developed in this rapidly changing environment and a full review of the COVID Safe Plan was completed in line with the easing of mandatory vaccination requirements. Upon review and consultation, Millennium eased its mandatory vaccination requirement but continues to strongly encourage COVID vaccination in line with health directives. Vaccination requirements are now only applicable for specified high-risk work locations or where a customer mandate exists.

Modern Slavery Risk Commitment

We are committed to being fair and inclusive in the way we operate across our business. We make the safety and well-being of our people our top priority. We do this because it is the right thing to do and because our team members are the foundation of our business.

Millennium has adopted the Australian Modern Slavery Act definition of Modern Slavery, including the eight types of exploitation. Modern slavery is a crime and a gross violation of fundamental human rights. It takes various forms such as slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another to exploit them for personal or commercial gain.

Millennium is committed to identifying and addressing risks and any potential instances of Modern Slavery in our operations and supply chains. This statement is the Group's third Modern Slavery Statement which has been lodged with the Australian Border Force for the year ending 2022.

Millennium has reinforced its prevention of Modern Slavery commitment through its continued association with the Property Council's informed 365 tech platform to engage suppliers around Modern Slavery risks. During the 2022 calendar year, no specific examples of Modern Slavery were identified in our operations or supply chains.

We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to prevent modern slavery within our own business and our supply chains. Millennium also understands the key to eradicating this complex issue is to set clear expectations for our people and suppliers, educate and train them on the impacts of Modern Slavery and its prevention and ultimately alert us to potential involvement in modern slavery and empower us to take steps to address it and to prevent such involvement in the future.

The third Modern Slavery Statement was approved by the People & Risk Committee and the Millennium Services Group Board at the December 2022, People & Risk Committee meeting and Board meeting. Millennium Services Group is a 'higher entity' within the meaning of section 14(2)(d)(ii) of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth), being the entity in a position to influence or control each other reporting entity covered by this statement.

4.2 Identifying Modern Slavery Risk

According to the United Nations Guiding Principles (UNGP) on Modern Slavery, an organisation can have Human Rights impact through the following:

The Australian Government encourages entities to draw on the UNGP continuum to understand and communicate modern slavery risks. Using this continuum, we considered the scenarios where our activities may result in human rights-related harm or impacts through modern slavery. In line with the Risk Identification methodology noted above, Millennium could “Cause,” “Contribute” and be “Linked” to modern slavery. These risks are mitigated and monitored given the controls and governance structures in place at Millennium.

4.3 Assessing the risk of Modern Slavery

Property Council of Australia - Millennium Services Group Assessment Outcome

Initial analysis sourced from the Property Council of Australia Platform (Informed 365) is a key resource for analysing risk. Millennium Services Group completes an annual self-assessment and has been since 2019 when Millennium first joined the platform.

According to the self-assessment form completed for 2022 – 2023, Millennium Services Group has been assessed at 46% as a Level 3 – Medium Risk for Modern Slavery.

Risk Level	Percentage	Classification
Level 1	0-20%	Very Low
Level 2	21-40%	Low
Level 3	41-60%	Medium
Level 4	61-80%	High
Level 5	80-100%	Very High

The Modern Slavery risk self-assessment is based on 11 individual criteria including, but not limited to, supplier details and engagement practices to governance education & training and process for mitigating and remedying modern slavery risk when identified.

Modern Slavery Risk Self-Assessment

Based on the self-assessment result, the highest level of Modern Slavery risk identified within Millennium operations is due to the employment of temporary migrant workers as a Level 4 – High Risk which forms part of the Millenniums Part Time or Casual workforce.

Millennium recognises that the Cleaning and Security service industries remain susceptible to Modern Slavery risks due to the nature of the industries themselves and as a result, the inherent risk of Modern Slavery risk is assessed as a Level 3 – Medium Risk.

Millennium's governance practices and controls in relation to Modern Slavery risk is accomplished through the overall management of the Modern Slavery Risk Framework overseen by Millennium's Board of Directors, People & Risk Committee and Executive & Senior Management members. The MS Framework is well developed and mature and a reflection of these assessed criteria identifies that Education and Training, Policies & Procedures and Supplier Engagement in relation to MS risk are maintained at Level 1 & 2 – Very Low & Low levels.

Operational Risk

Much of our team is on the frontline of our business. They comprise of cleaners, security officers, customer service consultants, and maintenance workers. Supporting these frontline teams are our Account Managers and Site Managers who represent the Operations Teams. These Operational Teams are supported by our administrative support staff and professionals in functions such as Finance, IT, Risk, Human Resources, and our Executive Leadership Team.

Our gender mix is approximately 47% female and 53% male, while the Age Profile chart below shows our team combines youth and experienced staff with 30% of our workforce under 30 and another 10% aged over 60.

Our people come from all walks of life and proudly represent more than 40 different nationalities. For many new immigrants to Australia, Millennium is their first job in Australia.

Risks and Controls

Millennium Operational Risk	Millennium Strategic Controls
Diversity introduces potential linguistic and cultural barriers and increases the risk of our workers being vulnerable to risk of Modern Slavery Our operations are spread across Australia and NZ and vary significantly in scale and environment. This geographic spread introduces both operational management and oversight challenges	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Millennium operates under a direct employment model and complies with all relevant Industry Award employment terms • Millennium recruitment and employment policies, processes and procedures are all designed to ensure that legislative requirements are met • Millennium holds Labour Hire Licenses in Queensland and Victoria - these provide reassurance that Millennium is a 'fit and proper' employer compliant with workplace laws • Our Code of Conduct, CSR and Whistle Blower Policies provide clear behavioral expectations at all levels and empower our employees to play an active role in the elimination of improper conduct in the workplace. • Millennium uses digital Workforce Management Software to manage rostering and attendance – this provides secure high compliance data to our payroll system

Supply Chain Risk

A full overhaul and review of the Approved Supplier Program is currently underway. Millennium will be centralising the function of its Approved Supplier Program for all entities operating across Australia to ensure all suppliers providing Goods or Consumables, Labour Hire or Onsite and Offsite Services are thoroughly vetted and understand their Modern Slavery obligations as well as complying with the standards set out by Millennium Services Group and its operating entities.

Through this review, 525 suppliers were identified as providing some form of Goods or Consumables, Labour hire or Services to Millennium during this reporting period. Of these suppliers, 156 suppliers are considered "active", meeting all of Millenniums approved supplier prequalification requirements, with an additional 229 suppliers on "hold" for failing to meet the requirements. The Compliance team are working through the list of identified suppliers to ensure they comply with the requirements or are removed from the approved supplier program. An additional 136 suppliers have also been identified as "inactive" who haven't been engaged by Millennium during the reporting period.

Further analysis of Millenniums list of approved suppliers by value spend identified that nearly 50% of the spend is constituted by 5 suppliers - made up of a combination of Labour Hire Providers and suppliers providing Goods or Consumables. The suppliers are broken down by spend below. The table accounts for 99% of the supplier spend and the remaining 1% is made up of suppliers with a spend of less than $1000 per financial year.

Supplier Type	No of Suppliers	% of Supply Spend
Category A Very High Value Procurement - $500,000 and above	11	57.00%
Category B High Value Procurement - $250,000 - $499,999	21	14.00%
Category C Medium Value Procurement - $50,000 to $249,999	88	20.00%
Category D Low Value Procurement - $10,000 - $49,999	136	6.00%
Category E Very Low Value Procurement - $1,000 - $9,999	11	2.00%

In addition to the analysis by supplier spend, Millennium has also enrolled approximately 167 of its suppliers onto the Property Council of Australia – Informed 365 platform and have asked for Modern Slavery Risk Assessments to be completed and at the end of 2021, Bureau Veritas in tandem with PCA and other enrolled members conducted an assessment of their nominated suppliers which were identified by the member organisation as High Risk and an assessment summary and outcome based on the categories is as outlined below.

PCA Modern Slavery Risk Criteria	Risk Rating
Suppliers understanding and acceptance of Millenniums Supplier Code of Conduct and general understanding of modern slavery risk and reported breaches or penalties	Low
Current approach to modern slavery risk and reporting obligations including education and training of employees on modern slavery risk	High

4.4 Addressing Modern Slavery risk across our business

Millennium Services Group conducts business in a way that respects the rights and dignity of employees and suppliers and avoids complicity in human rights abuses, while complying with legal and regulatory requirements which incorporate the protection of human rights. This is achieved through a strong commitment to prevention of Modern Slavery Risk by adopting a Governance Framework of policies & procedures and programs as outlined below.

4.5 Tracking and Communicating

Millennium is committed to continually refining our modern slavery risk management, including by taking steps to assess the effectiveness of our actions.

The Modern Slavery Risk Review through our People & Risk Committee (PRC) is our continual risk assessment process to evaluate both existing and emerging modern slavery risks. This process supports us in assessing the effectiveness of our actions to manage modern slavery risks by providing a mechanism to test whether our current response is fit for purpose.

The Review is facilitated regularly by the General Manager, Risk and Compliance, or a member of the People & Risk committee. Risk assessments are currently undertaken with key internal stakeholders for cleaning and security who are directly involved in managing operations including recruitment and training and their supply chains.

We recognise that understanding modern slavery risks built on supplier assessment alone is not a complete strategy. Our approach is to focus on supplier's workers and our internal workforce through the following avenues:

Widening reach to more workers	Building on partnerships
Worker engagement	Welfare Champions
Stakeholder collaboration	Property Council of Australia resource sharing

Upcoming Actions

Our existing controls are reassessed and reinforced through the PRC Review. New controls may be developed as we gain more insights into their effectiveness. We have identified new initiatives to enhance both our existing controls as well as our ability to assess their effectiveness, including the following approaches to facilitate more reliable assessment of modern slavery risks in our supply chains:

- Annual supplier review of Very High and High Value procurement, checking suppliers' conduct and adherence to the Millennium Supplier Code of Conduct
- Roll out the Modern Slavery training developed by Millennium to familiarise and provide Millennium management with a better understanding of the Modern Slavery Risk and its controls
- Subsequent surveys of the management team to check the effectiveness of modern slavery training and its understanding
- Review of customer contractual requirements where Modern Slavery risk may exist
- Develop key performance indicators for preventive controls

While we endeavour to be as vigilant and thorough as possible, we recognise that modern slavery risks can be hidden and may only be discovered through reported incidents. Should this occur, our framework for grievance resolution (Whistle Blower Program) will support us to undertake appropriate remedial action/s and consider whether changes are needed to our existing modern slavery risk management strategy to enhance its effectiveness.

5. NEXT STEPS

The Modern Slavery Statement from the year ending 2020 -2021 identified the following key actions which have been successfully executed. Millennium will endeavor to build on these going forward.

Action Items from 2020 – 2021 Modern Slavery Statement	Reflections
Ongoing training at all levels internally – including consideration of language and culture	Millennium have developed and included within its Learning Management System a Millennium specific Modern Slavery Training Course
Working with our Supply Chain partners to grow and share awareness of risks and understanding of how to control them	Millennium has commenced the overhaul of its Approved Supplier Program including the Supplier Code of Conduct Compliance Millennium transitioned to a National Cleaning Supplier reducing the Modern Slavery Risk due to the Suppliers robust supply chain and strong commitment to Modern Slavery prevention
Verification of outcomes using accredited 3rd party agencies	Engagement of Intertek to conduct a Wage Compliance Audit across its key portfolio client sites

While we are pleased with the progress we have made thus far, we know we have more work to do to reduce the risk of modern slavery across our supply chains and operations. As we move through 2022 – 2023, we will continue to monitor for opportunities to improve our practices and will strive to raise awareness of modern slavery risks within our organisation and across our supply chains.
